

But I will not pause for you to catch up. I will not repeat myself, and you will not interrupt me. I do not like to be interrupted. If you ask me a question, I will ignore it and continue speaking as I please. If you think me impolite, very well. You think that because you're sitting where you are, and I am sitting where I am, that you are in control of what is about to happen. You're mistaken. I am in control, because I know things that you do not know. • It's gonna be insane, when his dick explodes like a champagne bottle. Or like, when you put Mentos in soda. You ever YouTube that? That's totally gonna be his dick. • It was the forest where I broke my leg swinging from a tire swing when I was seven. The forest that served as the shortcut home on our bicycles and divided the town into rich and poor sections. The forest where a month prior, Chrissy Monroe and Mr. Pulaski were shot and killed. And like that it was burnt to the ground. • Two months later that American president was assassinated. He became a martyr for their own kind mission and a reason for a nasty one. Science became a race. And we lost. • Do you really want a girl who has a box of tampons? Because I'm willing to shoot you over a box of tampons. • Yeah. Yeah, I know. Maggie used to babysit Julia. She's just six fucking years old. And as my daughter was walking away, I put an axe to the girl. They weren't right, Boy. This whole goddamn thing ain't right. What have we done to ourselves. What the hell are we to do? • Mr. Hayes, I have good news and bad news for you. Good news is you're not going into anaphylactic shock. You just felt like you were. A high dose of laderol will do that to you. Bad news is your body has to arrive D.O.A. at New York Presbyterian in about fifteen minutes, so we need to hurry. • Let's be real. There's only one reason someone shows up to an event like this the way you're doing it: because you're looking to make an investment. And since you just rolled in here with the subtlety of the D-Day invasion, you're gonna have every hitter in the room looking to be in business with you. • Doc, I don't have the first damn clue what I've been through. You say it's a lot, I'll take your word for it. And if there's anything else you'd like to share, I would absolutely love to hear it, 'cause I've got zero idea who I am, how I got here, or what may or may not be waiting for me outside these walls. As far as I'm aware my life started yesterday. You know everything I know because you told me everything I know, so the only person in this room with any secrets is you. • Look at you. You're so bored. You think the rules don't apply to you, and with that smile and that intellect, you're right, they don't. You're the one in a million. So now you gotta ask yourself -- is there anything you wouldn't give up to help save the world? • Three hundred and one. We shouldn't have been around for any of those days. But just when we needed it, we found this shelter, and it's given us food, a home, a life. Everything. For all we know, we're the only ones left, the only ones still alive. So you see... everyone one of those marks is really a miracle.

THE HIT LIST

2011

SPEC /spěk/

-idiom

On spec, made, built, or done with hopes of,
but no assurance of payment or sale.

THE HIT LIST is an annual list that has existed in small talk, memo, gossip, facsimile, journal, email, and simple rumor since the blossoming days of the film industry. However, before 2010 it has always been left where it began, and shared closely, only amongst friends. The Hit List, is quite simply what you, personally dictate as your favorite item of topic. Whether it be music, film, novel, or any other medium, The Hit List is what dictates your taste, and your choice as to what is to be deemed the best.

This year, we are once again taking THE HIT LIST public.

This list, and everything inside of it, has been compiled, tallied, organized and created by The Tracking Board.

- 430. The number of voters nominated to take part in the 2011 list.
- 339. The number of voters who submitted before the deadline.
- 2,926. The number of total votes compiled.
- 2177. The number of votes that made the cut.
- 7. The amount of votes needed to make the 2011 list.

- 358. The number of eligible spec scripts at vote deadline.
- 202. The number of different scripts voted for.
- 83. The number of scripts making the cut.
- 21. The number of write-ins voted for.

The Hit List exists to celebrate SPEC SCRIPTS. By focusing exclusively on specs, this list aims to bring recognition to the new material that enters Hollywood, with an eye towards celebrating fresh ideas, new voices, and the emerging talents that make up the largest gambling circuit in all of Hollywood – The Spec Market.

To be eligible for the list, a screenplay must have been released into the spec market between December 1st, 2010 and November 30th, 2011. To be considered a spec, a screenwriter must not have been paid for their work prior to exposing their script to the market. To make the list, at least seven voting members needed to vote for the spec.

The Hit List is voted on by a judging panel which is nominated by a board of Development Executives, Producers, Writers, Agents, Managers, Directors, and Assistants. To be part of the judging panel, any member for the 2011 list must have been employed within the film industry, and had to be nominated, and voted for approval by those nominated before them. This organic process allowed an unbiased, and writer friendly vote, based on the expansion to those who are reading these scripts first, and those who are considered to represent the “Taste” of Hollywood.

Before you continue, please bear in mind that the difference between the million dollar sale and the unsold sample is rarely a judge of one being better than the other, but instead can be seen as talent meeting opportunity on a roll of good luck.

I hope you enjoy our list.

This year's list is made available in both PDF, and PDF Interactive. PDF Interactive makes every spec title clickable, so that you can instantly navigate to the original spec listings, which often details the "as it happens" up to the minute details each of these scripts lived as they entered the market, attracted attachments, had territories requested, went into studios, built buzz, and if they were lucky, found a new home. (While the PDF Interactive is available to everyone, the features are only available to members).
