

I know we already looked at Bo. Look at him again. I need you to find out everything we missed before, find answers to every question we never thought to ask before. I want to know what his favorite toothpaste is, what his resting heart rate is, what his Mom's resting heart rate is. Everything we overlooked when we watched his films last December. Stats only tell us what happened. Not how. Not why. We have about ten hours to do about ten months worth of looking under and between the stats, so get off your asses and get busy.

- Drexler's not just some rocket scientist, he's the rocket scientist. The master architect of the United States nuclear missile arsenal. Your 'justice for all' bullshit takes a back seat to nuclear winter, son. Be a fucking professional. This is the best lead you could ever hope for.
- THE WORLD IS TRANSFORMING ALL AROUND THEM! Like a wave moving down Main Street, slightly faster than their car, the buildings transform before their very eyes. Camera pans to a windshield view of the street ahead as the buildings become derelict. Boarded windows and "for lease" signs. Others vanish completely into chain-linked lots. Parked cars transform into new vehicles. Vehicles in motion explode in a shower of evaporating photons as the wave hits them. New cars take form, already in motion with oblivious drivers... as if they'd always been here.
- Yeah, I mean, how does it work? Can you cause a ripple in the past that changes the future, like in Back to the Future, or are you creating an alternate reality to branch off from this one, like in Star Trek - That's, um, classified.
- Can you at least tell me what year you're from? - Nope. Classified. - Well what's the future like? - It's very classified.
- Did you know the President travels in an eight ton military armored modified Cadillac CTS, built to withstand gas, chemical, and nuclear attacks? - That's on the internet? - Wikipedia. You guys are doing a bang-up job with the secret thing.
- Inverted this cellar into a fallout shelter right after 9/11. The electricity comes from solar panels mounted on the barn roof. Water's piped in from a well underneath the house then it goes through a reverse osmosis filter. Completely self contained. Started to think I went a little overboard, but figured, even if it never serves its purpose, it makes a decent wine cellar.
- Do you remember how Saddam would build munitions factories next to schools and playgrounds to deter us from bombing those sites? Evil men mock the good in their enemies. These days in Yemen, one need not venture deep into the mountains to hear the call for Jihad. And al- Huwaidi's a fucking rock-star to these people. You got boys putting up posters of him on their walls like he's Eminem. My honest-to-God belief is that blowing up this one bus saves a hundred, possibly even a thousand more buses.
- Thank you Joel! What a lucky girl I am to cross paths with you! I thought for sure I was a goner when the Ark was overtaken, and again when we crashed seven point four miles from here, and again when I was bit in half, but then I met you and you saved me from the vicious mustela putorius culus! You are, in no exaggeration of the word, my hero.
- WARNING You are about to enter a highly quarantined area of New York. 49% are dead... 49% are infected... 2% are surviving by Any Means Necessary to take YOUR spot. If easily frightened, I suggest you stay on the Island...
- THE SOUND OF IMPACT -- -- then CHILLING STATIC. Alex is completely FROZEN. A statue. He can't believe his ears. Everything he was told -- everything the world believed -- was a lie and this is the proof.
- When I was six, my parents bought me a globe. One of those big ones on an iron floor stand. This was the same year I dressed up as a wilderness explorer for Halloween. My room was papered with hand-drawn maps of my neighborhood. I studied every inch of that globe, and it was the saddest moment of my childhood. It had all been explored already. Claimed, named, and labeled, top to bottom. My whole purpose in life, taken away. Next Halloween, I was an astronaut.

THE HIT LIST

SPEC /spěk/

-idiom

On spec, made, built, or done with hopes of,
but no assurance of payment or sale.

THE HIT LIST is an annual list that has existed in small talk, memo, gossip, facsimile, journal, email, and simple rumor since the blossoming days of the film industry. However, before 2010 it has always been left where it began, and shared closely, only amongst friends. The Hit List, is quite simply what you, personally dictate as your favorite item of topic. Whether it be music, film, novel, or any other medium, The Hit List is what dictates your taste, and your choice as to what is to be deemed the best.

This year, we are once again taking THE HIT LIST public.

This list, and everything inside of it, has been compiled, tallied, organized and created by The Tracking Board.

- 482. The number of voters nominated to take part in the 2012 list.
- 361. The number of voters who submitted before the deadline.
- 3193. The number of total votes compiled.
- 2456. The number of votes that made the cut.
- 7. The amount of votes needed to make the 2012 list.

- 361. The number of eligible spec scripts at vote deadline.
- 239. The number of different scripts voted for.
- 84. The number of scripts making the cut.
- 32. The number of write-ins voted for.

The Hit List exists to celebrate SPEC SCRIPTS. By focusing exclusively on specs, this list aims to bring recognition to the new material that enters Hollywood, with an eye towards celebrating fresh ideas, new voices, and the emerging talents that make up the largest gambling circuit in all of Hollywood – The Spec Market.

To be eligible for the list, a screenplay must have been released into the spec market between December 1st, 2011 and November 30th, 2012. To be considered a spec, a screenwriter must not have been paid for their work prior to exposing their script to the market. To make the list, at least seven voting members needed to vote for the spec.

The Hit List is voted on by a judging panel which is nominated by a board of Development Executives, Producers, Writers, Agents, Managers, Directors, and Assistants. To be part of the judging panel, any member for the 2011 list must have been employed within the film industry, and had to be nominated, and voted for approval by those nominated before them. This organic process allowed an unbiased, and writer friendly vote, based on the expansion to those who are reading these scripts first, and those who are considered to represent the “Taste” of Hollywood.

Before you continue, please bear in mind that the difference between the million dollar sale and the unsold sample is rarely a judge of one being better than the other, but instead can be seen as talent meeting opportunity on a roll of good luck.

I hope you enjoy our list.

This year's list is made available in both PDF, and PDF Interactive. PDF Interactive makes every spec title clickable, so that you can instantly navigate to the original spec listings, which often details the "as it happens" up to the minute details each of these scripts lived as they entered the market, attracted attachments, had territories requested, went into studios, built buzz, and if they were lucky, found a new home. (While the PDF Interactive is available to everyone, the features are only available to members).
